

Florida's DDWAITlist Campaign

No time to wait.

Florida's iBudget Waiver helps Floridians with developmental disabilities receive services that allow them to lead productive lives. Unfortunately, the need for services outpaces the funding available. Thousands of Floridians have been placed on a waitlist until resources become available.

PROBLEM

WAITING FOR SERVICES

Floridians with developmental disabilities often wait years to receive the services they need to lead productive lives.

PROGRESS

COMMITMENT FROM FLORIDA'S LEADERS

The Florida Legislature has previously supported consistent progress transitioning Floridians off the waitlist. We want to keep this momentum going!

PLAN

LONG-TERM SUPPORT REQUIRED

A continued financial commitment will help more individuals receive the services they need.

COMMIT

REDUCE THE WAIT

Reducing the waitlist provides lasting social and economic impacts for our state and relieves major financial, physical and emotional strains on caregivers.

Floridians Need Our Help!

Florida's expenditures are low compared to other states

Of 50 U.S. states, Florida ranks 49th in spending for intellectual and developmental disability services.

More than 22,000 Floridians with developmental disabilities are currently on the waitlist, in need of important services.
